PHILOSOPHY

The guiding principles of the ECS Counselor Education Program at the University Las Vegas, Nevada (UNLV) are based on the following beliefs:

• Individuals have a self-actualizing tendency characterized by positive growth, change, and self-responsibility.
• That counseling relationships are best facilitated through commitment and congruency in a setting of equality, cooperation, culturally responsiveness and mutual respect.
• That clients have the capacity to accept and to take responsibility for their behavior in their environment.
• That all individuals must be treated with respect, dignity, and worth.
• That as a result of the counseling process, clients can better understand their perceptions, attitudes, and behavior so that they can help themselves in the future by selecting appropriate alternatives.
• That professionally prepared counselors must develop an integrated counseling style, characterized by the recognition of the need to work with clients in a variety of domains including cognitive, affective, cultural/social and behavior processes.
• That counselors and clients understand the confluences of social, spiritual, ethnic, cultural environments and their impact on client development.
• That the counseling process is foundational for assisting clients in effective learning primarily in how to interact constructively with others in various settings.
• That preparation of lifelong learning skills is essential for both clients and counselors.
• That use of technology is an essential stratagem and provides us with tools that all individuals must embrace, but must be applied with responsibility, humanity, and social caring.

COUNSELOR SELF-AWARENESS

The Counselor Education faculty members strongly believe in the role and value of the personhood as a necessary component of the counseling process. Active involvement in self-awareness and personal growth is an integral and necessary component of the experiences within the counseling program. Counseling requires that the use of self as a catalyst for change be fully integrated into the counseling process and relationships. As such, personal qualities, characteristics, experiences, and reactions of counselors are as critical to becoming a counselor as the knowledge and skills related to functioning as a counseling practitioners.
ROLES AND RESPONSIBILITIES

ROLE OF THE INTERNSHIP STUDENT

Interns are essentially guest members in the Practicum/Internship setting. This mutually beneficial situation requires that Interns follow guidelines that are similar to those followed by the contracted staff. While expectations of staff, and therefore, Interns, vary from setting to setting, there are some general guidelines that students and supervisors should be aware of in order that all gain the most benefit from the experience.

The role of interns is to obtain practice and experience in counseling – not to change the system or the setting. The privileges that are extended to Interns are tenuous and may be revoked by the school, agency or institution at its discretion. Prior to beginning Practicum, students will have completed a basic core of counseling courses. Students will apply for Practicum and will be placed in an appropriate setting. Prior to beginning the Internship, students will have completed a basic core of counseling courses and Practicum. After consultation with a faculty advisor, students select an Internship site appropriate to their skills, knowledge and specific area of interest. The faculty assists students in establishing a contract with the site of choice.

Upon mutual acceptance by both student and agency, Interns then follow the procedures listed below:

- Interns complete, in writing, a preliminary internship agreement and contract with the setting in which the internship is to take place. The agreement describes the objectives, duties and responsibilities of the internship experience. The contract describes the legal parameters of the internship experience. The agreement form and contract is completed and signed by the Intern, the site supervisor, and the faculty supervisor within the first weeks of internship. A contract is provided at the end of this document.
- Create appropriate learning goals. A form is provided at the end of this document.
- Maintain a record of activities and hours to be discussed with and initialed by the Internship site supervisor periodically. The forms used for documenting direct and indirect contact hours are located on the CED Field Experience portal. All appropriate documents must be completed at the end of the term.
- Participate in a minimum of one hour per week of individual supervision at their site. This supervision time requirement may increase if the student is participating in an intensified internship.
- Participate in a minimum of 1-½ hours of group supervision Internship seminars per week. This supervision time is held on campus and the requirement may increase if the student is participating in an intensified internship. Attendance for seminar is mandatory.
- Participate in additional individual/triadic supervision with faculty supervisors as needed or required for internship.
- Participate in counselor-in-training activities.
- Interns are evaluated by the site supervisor and faculty members on a mid semester and end of semester basis.
APPLICATION FOR PRACTICUM AND INTERNSHIP

Applications for practicum and internship must be filed by the appropriate deadline in the semester before the clinical experience will occur. Students will not be permitted to register for either practicum or internship unless an application is on file with all the necessary departmental and faculty approvals. Students are required to consult with their Faculty Advisor regarding these applications in order to ensure that all prerequisites have been met prior to participation in these experiences.

STUDENT PARTICIPATION IN PROFESSIONAL ORGANIZATIONS

Being an active member of a professional organization is an integral part of establishing a solid professional disposition as well as a strong professional identity. Counselor Education Program faculty recommends and advises all graduate students who are enrolled in the program to join one of the national and local associations that are most appropriate for their program of study. Students are encouraged to attend conferences sponsored by ACA, AMHCA, ASCA, ACES, CHI SIGMA IOTA and other appropriate venues designed to enrich professional growth.

ROLE OF THE INTERNSHIP SUPERVISOR

Supervision from a qualified professional in the Practicum and Internship setting is required. The site supervisor is an experienced professional with a minimum of a Master’s degree in human services and basic counseling skill competency. The supervisor shall have 2 years minimum of professional counseling experience with the population and problems Interns will encounter. The supervisor assists Interns in establishing goals, assessing and evaluating professional development, and in helping Interns to become an integral part of the staff. To assist the supervisor, the following general objectives for supervision are listed:

- Guide the Intern toward the acquisition of specific skills and knowledge related to direct delivery of service to a specific client population.
- Provide the Intern with counseling situations in which they can gain experience in practical application of methods and techniques.
- Assist the Intern in planning for efficient use of time and resources.
- Assist the Intern in assessing client potential and prognosis.
- Help the Intern develop positive working relationships with supervisors, peers, and related agencies.

The site supervisor is expected to follow specific procedures. These may be modified to meet the needs of students and the setting:

- Help the Intern student feel at ease – provide a tour of the site, introduce the student to the administration and other staff members.
- Explain the counselor roles expected at the particular site so that the Intern student becomes familiar with policies and practices.
- Assist in developing a list of objectives and responsibilities that are task specific to the agency or institution involved.
- Read, sign, and accept a copy of the Internship agreement during the initial phase of the Internship.
- Monitor the activities of the Intern student and provide timely consultation to enhance greater effectiveness of counseling services. Include a minimum of one (1) hour per week of individual supervision. This supervision time requirement may increase if the student is participating in an intensified Internship.
- Expand the duties and responsibilities of the Intern student to meet the necessary course expectations.
- Communicate with the faculty supervisor regarding progress of the Intern.
- Provide evaluation for the faculty supervisor and share these evaluations with the Intern.
- Review and sign off on the documentation of Intern’s record keeping of clinical hours via the CED Field Experience Portal.

ROLE OF THE FACULTY SUPERVISOR

Supervision of student skills and acquisition of knowledge has been the responsibility of the faculty up to the time of Internship. During the clinical experience the faculty supervisor is expected to function as a liaison person between the Counselor Training Program and the agency. Primary supervision of the Intern student is with the on-site supervisor. During the course of the Internship, the faculty supervisor performs the following tasks:

- Approves the Practicum/Internship Agreement and Contract within the initial phase of the course as required.
- Maintains phone contact with the site supervisor and, if possible, visits the site.
during the course of the Internship (entrance and exit interviews).

- Reviews the evaluations submitted by the site supervisor and submits a grade for the Practicum/Internship credit hours completed.
- Evaluates the entire Practicum/Internship experience for both student and agency and works toward continued improvement of learning opportunities for the student.
- Reviews the Intern’s records during the course of the Practicum/Internship.
- Provides support and feedback through group, individual and/or triadic supervision.

PROFESSIONAL COMPETENCIES

Enrollment in Practicum and Internship are considered critical experiences for successful completion of the Masters in Counselor Education with an M.S. (Clinical Mental Health Counseling) or M.Ed. (School Counseling) in counseling. The primary goals of both Practicum and Internship are to develop strong counseling skills and to promote the development of the student’s professional counselor identity in an organization compatible with their program emphasis area. Practicum and Internship activities will take place at departmentally approved sites with appropriately qualified supervisors where the Intern can work with clients appropriate for the student’s program emphasis.

The ECS Counselor Education Program is dedicated to building and maintaining nationally recognized best practices. Knowledge, skills, and standards for the Practicum and Internship experiences were developed to reflect the standards of the Council for Accreditation of Counseling and Related Educational Programs (CACREP).

Students are expected to have competence with word processing, statistical programs, and database and web searches.

LIABILITY INSURANCE

Counselors and counselors-in-training are not immune to litigation regarding counseling practice. Therefore, in order to protect students in training who are providing direct client services, all students enrolled in clinical courses must obtain and present evidence of adequate personal liability coverage. It is recommended that students select insurance providing a minimum coverage amount of $1,000,000 incident/$1,000,000 aggregate.

Students may choose their own insuring company. Sources that will insure counseling students include: The American Counseling Association and The American School Counselor Association. It is the student’s responsibility to evaluate the available insurance prior to choosing a particular company. Students may choose to use his or her own personal insuring agent if that company can provide satisfactory coverage.

Students will be asked to present evidence of coverage at the first class meeting of each course involving a clinical component. Evidence of coverage consists of a photocopy of the cover page of the insurance policy that shows the student’s name, policy number, and dates of coverage. Courses involving a clinical component include but are not limited to: Counseling Process and Procedures, Practicum and Internship.

Students typically spend 6-10 hours per week involved in direct and indirect counseling activities and individual and group supervision. Hours in Practicum must be accrued throughout the 15-week semester. Students ordinarily earn Practicum credit at a single site; the department faculty must approve requests for an additional Practicum site (and this is not customary). Students may not accrue hours at their place of employment.

the delivery of a variety of direct services. Students draw from multiple professional resources to deliver these counseling services, which can include assessment instruments, computers, printed materials and media, professional literature, research and referral sources. Applying theory and counseling skills under competent supervision enables students to make the necessary transition from graduate school to their professional counseling practice. When this transition is made with adequate supervision, students gain competence and confidence in the delivery of counseling services. The reality provided in the internship setting offers the necessary bridge between training and professional practice. Interns may not accrue hours at their place of employment.

COUNSELING CASE PRESENTATION

According to CACREP and current professional practice standards students need to be able to utilize counseling skills by establishing appropriate counseling goals, designing intervention strategies, and evaluating client outcomes. Students are required to utilize counseling theories to provide consistent models to conceptualize client presentations and select appropriate counseling interventions. Students will meet these objectives by presenting a minimum of two case studies during the course of the semester.
