

Strand: Student Personnel Leadership

The Student Personnel Leadership strand prepares students for leadership and research positions in the field of student life in the two and four-year college and university setting. Suggested courses for this strand are divided into two categories, student personnel and faculty. Courses suggested under the faculty category may be of interest to students who plan on pursuing academic careers as faculty in four-year institutions. Students with advisor consent can mix and match across the groupings.

Examples of courses that will fulfill the specialty requirements for the Student Personnel Leadership strand (choices require advisor approval). Courses, which have been taken at the master's level either at UNLV or another institution should not be repeated for credit (* indicates master's courses).

- EDH 718 - Institutional Advancement
- EDH 728 - Leadership Development Seminar *
- EDH 732 - Readings in the Administration of Higher Education
- EDH 734 - Readings in Student Personnel Issues
- EDH 744 - Comparative Higher Education
- EDH 750 - Special Topics
- EDH 761 - Leading in Multicultural Organizations *
- EDH 762 - College Student Personnel Services *
- EDH 764 - Student Learning and Development *
- EDH 768 - Campus Environments and Assessment
- EDH 769 - Working with Diverse Student Populations in Higher Education
- EDH 780 - Teaching in Higher Education
- EDH 784 - Legal Aspects of Student-University Relationships
- EDH 792 - Public Policy in Higher & Postsecondary Education
- EDH 794 - Ethics in Higher Education
- EDW 740 - Technologies for Improving Human Performance *
- EDH 791 - Independent Study
- Other with advisor consent

Individuals interested in pursuing faculty careers at research universities should consider including the one or more of the following courses in their programs of study (choices require advisor approval).

- EDH 760 - Understanding the Role of Faculty in colleges and universities
- EDH 764 - Student Learning and Development
- EDH 769 - Working with Diverse Student Populations
- EDH 780 - Teaching in Higher Education
- EDH 783 - Issues in Higher Education: Law and the Professorate